Horatio Lions to Meet Bobcats on Hope Field Friday

Game Is to Be Called Promptly at 7:30 O'Clock

LIONS, CRACK TEAM

Beaten Only by Texarkana, Texas, This Season

By LEONARD ELLIS

Cochman Ted Jones' Bobcats were set Friday to turn back a fast-charging Horatio High School football team and avenge three defeats handed the Bobcats in their athletic relations with the Horatio school.

The opposing teams have not met in two years, but in that game and two prior to that time the Lions came out victorious.

Cochman Leslie Nations, with whom the writer shared a room while attending the University of Arkansas, has drilled his team to function on Parker formations, with lots of tricks and spread formations. Nations played end on the University team for three seasons. His team has been defeated but once this season. Texarkana, Texas, beat the Lions early in the season.

Chamberlain Returns

Encouraging news to Bobcat supporters was the return this week of Hugh Chamberlain, regular center, to his position in the lineup, and the recovery of Mutt Hargis, Bobcat veteran fullback. Chamberlain was out of the DeQueen game last week on account of injuries and the death of a relative. Hargis started in the DeQueen battle despite an injured shoulder.

Urban, Drake and J. Turner, are still suffering from injuries and will be missing from the lineup. All are regulars.

Spears, substitute halfback, who played most of the game last week against DeQueen will probably see but little action if any. Spears has an injured hip.

Officials for the game were announced Friday noon as:

Berry Vanderbilt, referee; Young Henderson, headlinesman; Methuen (V. M. L.) umpire.

The game will start promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

The Lineup

The probably lineup:

Mrs. Norris O'Neal Is Stricken Dead

Bride of 8 Months, She Suffers Heart Attack at Noon Friday

Mrs. Norris O'Neal, 25, a bride of eight months, was found dead at her home on West Fifth street at noon Friday, apparently victim of a heart attack.

Her husband discovered the body lying on the floor when he returned home at noon for luncheon. At first it was believed she had fainted. A physician was called, but she was dead when he arrived.

J. H. Weaver, Hempstead county coroner, was called to investigate. He reported that she apparently had been stricken with heart trouble and had fallen to the floor.

She had taken a bath a few minutes before and had walked out into a warm room. A slight bruise was found on her forehead, believed to have been caused by striking an object when falling.

Mrs. O'Neal is the former Miss Lucile Gould of Glenwood, Ark. Her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Gould, were en route here Friday afternoon. No official coroner's investigation will be held until they arrive.

Mrs. O'Neal was prominent in church affairs, being a member of First Methodist church choir. She is well known here. Her husband is connected with his father, N. P. O'Neal, owner of the Hope Brick plant.

A physician reported that Mrs. O'Neal had suffered recently from attacks of heart disease, and indigestion. No funeral arrangements had been made Friday, pending arrival of relatives of the dead woman.

William Hulsey Shoots Self in Heart With Shotgun

BROTHER FINDS HIM

Suicidal Threat Leads Relatives to Follow Him Home

Warning his mother and father that he was tired of living and leaving a note for his young daughter, William Hulsey, 46, farmer of near Washington, shot and killed himself at 10:30 Friday morning.

Hulsey was found by his brother, Albert, and Tom Parson, who went to the Hulsey home after hearing threats of suicidal intent.

They found Hulsey lying on the floor of his home with a 12-gauge shotgun near his side. It had been fired once. The load had taken effect in Hulsey's breast, just above the heart. He died soon afterward.

Hulsey was alone at the time. His wife was shopping in Hope, and their young daughter was attending school. Hulsey went to the home of his mother and father, about a mile away and told his relatives of his intention, saying goodbye.

On his way back Hulsey stopped at the home of Tom Parson, a neighbor, and also said farewell to him.

Albert Hulsey, a brother, and Parson followed. As they entered the yard of the Hulsey home they heard the report of a gun. Something fell to the floor. Entering the house they found Hulsey had shot himself.

A note was found addressed to his daughter, Lucille, telling her goodbye. Hulsey, neighbors said, appeared to be in good spirits until Friday.

U.S. Recognition of Cuba Rebels Near

Ambassador Welles Completes Task, Will Return Home

WARM SPRINGS, Ga.—President Roosevelt announced Thursday night that Ambassador Welles would be returned to the State Department from Cuba soon and urged the troubled island republic to establish a stable government in the near future.

"We earnestly hope," said the presidential statement, "that in the near future through a spirit of compromise on all sides, the Cuban people themselves, will reach some peaceful agreement which may result in general support of a government and thus avoid continued civil disturbance with its attendant tragic loss of life and grave prejudice to the social and economical interest of the public."

Mr. Roosevelt announced that his previous plan to transfer Jefferson Caffery, assistant secretary of state, to Havana and return Welles to this post in the State Department will be carried out in the near future.

"Ambassador Welles is returning to Havana within the next few days," said Mr. Roosevelt.

"As previously announced upon the termination of his mission, which will be in the near future, he will return to Washington to resume his former duties as assistant secretary of state, and will be replaced by Dr. Jefferson Caffery, now serving as assistant secretary of state."

In the presidential declaration that the mission of Welles will be completed in the near future, was seen an understanding with the island republic on a form of government acceptable to the United States.

Graves Outlines School Problems

State May Eventually Guarantee Grade Schools, He Tells Rotary

O. A. Graves, Hope member of Governor Futrell's special commission to study the educational problems of Arkansas, told the Rotary club Friday noon:

"There are some things in life besides the making of money, and one of them is guaranteeing the opportunity of a common school education to all our citizens."

"Whatever we have to do toward that end, we shall do. When the federal and state governments have paid all that they are going to pay, then the local district must pay the rest—for after all, the kind of a school any community has, depends on the initiative of that community."

Reminding his hearers that although the governor had nominated him for the special education commission he had not yet actually accepted the appointment, Mr. Graves said the value of such a commission would depend on the people's willingness to co-operate in a survey of future plans, and their willingness to accept recommendations once a new system actually is proposed.

Mr. Graves related briefly some of the ideas Governor Futrell had outlined for improvement of the school system, but cautioned that he did not attempt to speak authoritatively for the governor's actual program.

"The state," said the speaker, "owes a certain educational duty to its children. It is the purpose of this commission to discover just how far that duty extends—and to outline it as a foundation system for our entire school program."

"For instance, it is generally supposed that the state owes a free public education to everyone through the first eight grades. It is our aim to put first things first—and the grade schools come before high schools, universities, and agricultural and mechanical schools."

"If the state is to assume this guardianship over the grade schools, several things may be necessary."

"In the first place, the taxes upon great utilities which are concentrated in the larger cities, and now go largely to the schools of those districts, might have to be redistributed to the state at large, in order to take care of schools in isolated districts."

"This might be opposed by the citizens of large towns, whose districts would stand to lose a part of their income."

"Under this redistribution it is inconceivable that any attempt would be made to increase the present total property tax. It would merely mean that the property owner would vote for a larger state tax and a smaller district tax."

"You would do this because you would be saying that the problem of taking care of the grade schools be-

Loan Corporation Is Organized Here

Advances for 3 to 12 Months on Crops and Livestock

The Prescott Credit Production association was organized at a meeting of Hempstead and Nevada county farmers at Prescott Thursday night.

J. H. Heckman, extension economist of the University of Arkansas, and Gathier C. Johnson, of the Production Credit corporation of St. Louis, assisted interested farmers in organizing the association.

Application was made to the governor of the Farm Credit Administration for a charter, signed by 17 farmers who are the incorporators of the newly formed group.

B. M. Jones, J. F. Moses, L. C. Sumner, H. S. Herring, W. E. Cottingham, J. T. Adams and E. H. Weaver were elected temporary directors.

As soon as the charter is received the association will set up operations to make loans to farmers in this area, it was said by Mr. Johnson.

The association will make loans for production of crops and the purchase of feeders live-stock, breeding herds and flocks, and dairy cattle.

These loans will be made for a period of from three to twelve months, depending on the type of loan requested, and will bear interest of six per cent. The loans will be secured by mortgages on crops for livestock financed.

Wood Promoted

T. J. Wood, engineer for the Community Ice company, has been promoted to the position of manager for an ice concern at McAlester, Okla., leaving for that place Thursday night. Manager H. R. Morley announced Friday. Mr. Wood's position as local engineer has been taken by St. Clair Brady.

U. S. Gold Price Goes Above London Figure

WASHINGTON.—(P)—The fixed price of newly-minted domestic gold stood at a level substantially higher than world quotations for the first Friday in more than a week, as the administration clung to its monetary program.

Friday's domestic price was fixed at $33.76 an ounce. Meanwhile the price at London was $33.48. Acting Secretary Morgenthau of the Treasury is en route to Warm Springs, Ga., for a three-day visit with President Roosevelt.

E. C. Bruce, 14, Dies in Hunt Accident

Succumbs to Wound From Leon Stephens, in Mishap Week Ago

E. C. Bruce, 14, son of J. J. Bruce of Blevins, died in Cora Donnell hospital at Prescott at 4 o'clock Friday morning of gunshot wounds inflicted in a hunting accident near Blevins last Saturday.

Bruce was shot when his hunting companion, Leon Stephens, missed his footing and fell down a bluff, his shotgun being discharged. The shot took Bruce in the face.

He was given first aid by Dr. R. R. Robins at Blevins, and thence removed to the Prescott hospital. At first his injuries were not believed critical, except for an eye wound; but his condition turned suddenly for the worse.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning from First Methodist church at Blevins. The Rev. A. P. Thompson, pastor, will be in charge, assisted by the Rev. G. W. Whiteside of Mt. Ida.

Burial is to be in Holly Grove cemetery, six miles south of Blevins. Surviving are his father, J. J. Bruce of Blevins, three brothers and four sisters, all of Blevins.

Alice Wynkoop, Woman Surgeon, Shot Son's Wife

Breaks Down in Tears After Three Days' Police Grilling

SHE FEARED BLAME

Girl Unconscious, Doctor Killed Her and Faked Robbery Story

CHICAGO.—(P)—Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynkoop confessed firing a bullet into the heart of her daughter-in-law, Rheta, while the girl lay unconscious, Captain John Stege announced Thursday.

The 62-year-old woman physician broke down at last after nearly three days of exhausting examination, the police official said.

She acknowledged that she had administered chloroform to her son's 23-year-old wife in examining her for a pelvic pain of which the girl complained.

Girl Was in Pain

Dr. Wynkoop said she found Rheta partly undressed in the surgical office when she arrived there late Tuesday afternoon. Rheta, weighing herself, complained of severe pains, the physician said, and she placed the girl on the operating table for examination, administering chloroform to ease the pain.

When Rheta lost consciousness, the physician said she became panic-stricken because she was fearful of blame for killing the girl with an anesthetic, and went to an adjoining room for a pistol.

Doctor Killed Her

Holding the gun five inches from the back of the unconscious girl, she fired one shot into her shoulder-blade, the doctor testified. Rheta's head, Dr. Wynkoop then faked a robbery story.

Only a short time previously to the confession, when she met her son, Earle, she denied to him that she had killed his wife.

Earle, under questioning, had told police his wife was tubercular, and mentally deranged, and his mother have a motive to kill her because of his unhappy marriage.

Dr. Wynkoop broke down and cried for the first time during the confession, ending what police described as the greatest exhibition of self-control they had ever witnessed.

Husband's Story

CHICAGO.—Earle Wynkoop, confessed philanderer and husband of the slain Rheta Wynkoop, was locked up Thursday night, the first of his family to be held behind bars since his wife was found murdered Tuesday.

Late Thursday night Al Brodie, chief deputy coroner, ordered the police to arrest immediately Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynkoop, mother of Earle, in connection with the murder. Deputy Brodie said there might be further action with reference to Dr. Wynkoop after he consulted the coroner.

Discovery of chloroform in Rheta's body was the deciding factor in ordering Dr. Wynkoop's arrest, he said.

Earle's wayward loves had preoccupied police all day Thursday as they investigated the secret lives of the Wynkoop clan in an effort to solve the increasingly mysterious murder.

Viewing his wife's body on a slab at a mortuary, Kansas City for questioning, shook his head, and whispered "that's enough," and was taken away to Fillmore police station.

To Police Capt. John Stege he readily admitted consorting with other girls and admitted that his indiscretions were known to his mother, Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynkoop, heretofore considered the central figure in the

Shank Trial Will Open on Monday

Insanity Plea Forecast for Slayer in Malvern (Ark.) Case

AKRON, Ohio.—(P)—An insanity defense will be offered for Mark Shank, Akron attorney, who is scheduled to be tried at Malvern, Ark., Monday, on a charge of murdering four persons.

Attorney George Hargreaves, counsel for Shank, said he has been obtaining depositions intended to establish that Shank is subject to violent emotional outbursts, and that the depositions will be entered at the trial. Hargreaves also will submit records of the Toledo state hospital for the insane, intended to show that five relatives of Shank have been confined there.

The prosecution contends Shank killed Mr. and Mrs. Fred Colley and two of their small children by giving them poisoned grape juice to drink.

The climate at the North Pole is the healthiest in the world, according to Sir Douglas Mawson, British explorer, who says that no germs can live in the intense cold there.

ALICE WYNEKOOP

One of his sweethearts, Priscilla Witte, 23, pretty and red haired, also was questioned. She admitted keeping a midnight rendezvous with Earle on Monday, some 18 hours before his wife was slain, declared she was unaware of his married state and considered herself and Earle engaged.

So far as his movements Tuesday were concerned, Earle consulted a notebook and was able to establish that at the time of Rheta's death he was 100 miles or more from Chicago.

Spent Night With Friend

Wynekoop said that he and a friend, Stanley Young, had spent the night of his date with Priscilla at the home of George E. Q. Johnson, former United States attorney, and that they had left next day for the Southwest.

Young, a nephew of the former United States attorney, Thursday afternoon gave Kansas City police an apparently substantial alibi to clear Wynekoop of the crime.

At the approximate hour of Rheta's death, he said, he and Wynekoop were approaching Peora, or beyond it. Rheta was last seen alive about 3 p. m. Tuesday, and her body was discovered five or six hours later.

Stegle's decision to put Earle in the lineup was provoked apparently by a challenge of the Wynekoop family's attorney, Frank Tryell.

Third Premier Defeated

in Attempt to Balance Budget

PARIS.—(P)—Suddenly overthrown in a surprise vote after scoring a temporary victory in a test of confidence, the government of Premier Albert Sarraut succumbed Thursday night, still battling for a sound franc and a balanced budget.

After four weeks of life the Sarraut government was defeated on a minor amendment to its financial program. The Chamber of Deputies voted 321 against 247. A previous vital test vote had given M. Sarraut a majority of 89.

The Center majority group in the Chamber, which earlier had rallied to save the life of the cabinet, deserted when the premier, after an impassioned burst of oratory, showed weakness by conceding a change which previously he had refused.

Although admitting defeat was imminent, Sarraut made a passionate appeal to "save the franc from financial hemorrhage."

"This is the 23rd of November and the budget is not even started," M. Sarraut pleaded. "The financial hemorrhage continues. Bonds are going down. Treasury bonds are not renewed."

His was the third cabinet in succession to fall attempting the save the French franc. The Sarraut ministry, whose downfall was forecast even before his government took office, immediately drew up a formal resignation which will be presented to President LeBrun shortly.

Mr. Graves said that the wisdom of making any sweeping change in the present educational system at this time might be open to challenge, because of uncertain economic conditions. The present system is suffering mainly from a lack of money, not a lack of organization, he declared.

Where additional tax revenues would be found for the future is the problem before the citizens, he declared. Properly cannot stand any increase; but there are possibilities in a sales tax or a broadening state income tax, he concluded.

Reddies, Tigers to Meet Turkey Day

Classic Battle Promised

This Year by Arkadelphia Colleges

ARKADELPHIA, Ark.—The two highest scoring college football teams in Arkansas will clash here Thanksgiving day when Henderson and Ouachita play their annual classic on Williams Field. Furthermore, the two tightest defensive teams in the state are the same pair of intra-city rivals.

Henderson in seven games has scored 169 points to opponents' 34. Ouachita has counted 103 points to opponents' 25. Now, in the case of Henderson, 26 of the 34 points were made by Centenary, a team that has shown consistently as much strength as the best of the Southwestern conference teams. The only other touchdown whose downfall was forecast even before his government took office, immediately drew up a formal resignation which will be presented to President LeBrun shortly.

Ouachita opened the season in a scoreless tie with Monticello Aggies which found the Ouachita defense so tight that not a first down was registered. Since that opening game no team has made more than six first downs on the Tigers. On the other hand, Ouachita is second only to Henderson in scoring results. Among the victims of Ouachita are: Arkansas Tech, beaten 14 to 7; Jonesboro Aggies defeated 34 to 6; State Teachers beaten 34 to 0; and Magnolia Aggies, defeated 14 to 0.

Henderson has shown one of the most brilliant football teams in the entire history of Arkansas collegiate competition. A team of stars, it is also a star team, having demonstrated fine co-ordination and morale.

Ouachita has been an up-and-down team, possessed with a lot of individual power and plenty of good line and backfield reserve. For a quarter, sometimes nearly a half, the Tigers have showed an irresistible punch to march for touchdowns.

Ouachita is perhaps the most underrated team in the state. Judged by its worst performances, the team is no match for Henderson. But regarded by its best played games it is good enough to give the Reddies an awful scare here on Thanksgiving Day. And since the morale of the Tigers is much better than it has been they will be in there with a world of fight against their time-honored rivals November 30.

By winning, Henderson can establish itself as undoubted state champions, without the loss of a game for two seasons in a row. Among the Reddies are at least eight men who will get much consideration for the all-state team. At the peak of consideration are: Duke Wells, N. Hardman, Fletcher Harrison and Raymond Davis of the backfield. Of the line, it is hard to eliminate any of the following men: Meadows and Buckley, tackles; Phillips and Richardson, guards; Slack and Means, ends; and Wilson, center.

Ouachita has two very powerful line men, namely, Clarence Bell and John Floyd, center and tackle, respectively. At the guards are two stellar performers in Moseley and Buster Holcomb. At another tackle is Elledge and on the ends are Sheffield, Woodell, Sewell, and Nutt. Ouachita has star backs in Chaney, Leslie, Winburn, and Luckins. Floyd and Bell of the line and Leslie of the backfield were last year's all-state selections.

The football fans who journey here on Turkey Day will see not only two good football teams in a hard fought, well played game, but any number of individual performers of brilliance and color. The game begins at 2 o'clock.

Bankers Got Justice Dept.

to Reverse Ruling, and

Put Fox in Hole

WASHINGTON.—(P)—William Fox, movie magnate who retired in 1930 when forced to sell control of his vast film and theater holdings, described what he called his own tragedy, in the 1929 market crash for senate investigators Thursday, mentioning former President Hoover and some of the nation's leading bankers.

"I was forced into a contract with General Theaters Equipment, Inc., for $15,000,000 and other considerations," Fox said. "I had no choice. My only alternative was to sell out."

At the time of the sale, Fox said, he owed around $33,000,000, including $73,000,000 for Loew shares and $20,000,000 for investments in a British movie firm named Gaumont.

"We used any money we could lay our hands on," he said, "to acquire the Loew shares after getting an option from the Justice Department that this would not conflict with the Clayton act."

He said he expected William J. Donovan, assistant to the attorney general at the time the department passed on the matter, would be named attorney general by President Hoover "but a man from somewhere in Minnesota a man named Claudius Huston who might be able to help." He said he conferred with Huston and Burke, whom he had hired as lawyers, and "asked to see the president to talk to him about the matter." He said he saw the president "at a White House luncheon."

"The president told me I didn't need any intermediaries such as Huston, that all I needed to do was to send my attorney to the Department of Justice if my story was true."

NEWS CHURCHES

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
Wallace R. Rogers, Pastor

The membership of the First Baptist church will make their pledges to the financial support of the church for the coming year on Sunday morning. It is the desire of the deacons of the church that the members come to the church any time Saturday or Sunday until noon and make their pledge. Already many have done so, and those who do not so will be visited by a committee from the church to secure the pledge.

An Every Member Canvass committee of approximately 60 men and women met at the church for supper on Thursday night and divided the membership into groups to be handled by eight teams. These teams will visit all who have not made a pledge by Sunday noon, and will try to complete the task by 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The Male Chorus of the First Baptist church will sing their first program of sacred music on Sunday evening at 7:30. This group of men, under the leadership of Mrs. J. C. Carlton, will render the following program:

Prelude—Schubert's Serenade.
Invocation.
Hymn—Coronation.
Chorus—Heaven's Radio, Gerber.
Quintet—Am I a Soldier of the Cross, Adams.
Offertory—Going Home, Dvorak.
Quartet—Crossing the Bar, Adams.
Sermon—Rev. Wallace R. Rogers.
Septet—Seek Ye the Lord, Roberts.
Solo—(Selected) Claude Taylor.
Chorus—Jesus' Savior Pilot Me, Adams.
Benediction—Single Amen.
